

ORT UK JUMP
employability skills

year 12 employability skills day

Have you ever wondered how your natural skills or talents could one day be useful in your future career?

off site
10th May
2023

Our brand-new Employability Skills Day programme will provide students with the opportunity to experience what it means to use skills such as 'maths' in day-to-day life or apply 'creative' thinking in a business setting.

We want to help students understand just because you don't enjoy numbers, doesn't mean you should rule out a career working in finance or managing budgets.

Our interactive sessions delivered by industry experts and professionals, will set students different challenges or tasks; demonstrating how different skill are used every day in business, giving them an insight and exposure to skills or talents they can then choose to develop further or possibly open their minds to career paths they might not previously have considered.

Please ensure all student applications are completed & submitted by Friday 28th April proposed interactive sessions	creative thinking Demonstrating how being a creative thinker can be just as valuable as traditional creative skills, working in design, marketing or product launches.

financial management Turning your flair for managing spreadsheets into a career working in finance, operations, or budget management.	how to win friends and influence people Developing your natural communication skills to develop a career leading teams, pitching for new business, or account management.
the art of negotiation Using your skills at influencing others to work in law, recruitment, property, or sales.	keeping cool in a crisis How your ability to keep a level head in a challenge can be applied to all industries!

for more information and to apply visit ortuk.org

any queries please contact julie.cohen@ortuk.org